INTERFIT – STELLAR MAKES WAY FOR THE NEW STELLAR X FLASH

Interfit, one of the leading manufacturers of photographic lighting is pleased to announce the arrival of the successor to the successful Stellar range first introduced in 2005. The new Stellar X Flash heads will be available as single heads or part of highly specified kits.

The Stellar X Flash has been improved in a number of key areas offering both Semi Professional and Professional photographers highly effective tools. Stellar X features a new aluminium body with a refined shape that would not be out of place in any studio. Fan cooling is a prerequisite feature along with an improved “S” Type bayonet fitting. Additionally the range benefits from a wide range of accessories such as the Interfit Pro range of light shaping tools. The new mounting bracket enables large softboxes to be easily counterbalanced ensuring the light will always stay in the correct position.

Auto Power Dumping is normally associated with higher valued products, however this is one of the major new features found in the Stellar X flash heads. The rear control panel houses a strong grab handle for easy positioning of the light along with user friendly controls which previous Interfit customers will immediately feel familiar. Additional features include a thermal cut-out device, built in infrared cells with a switchable sensor, 5 full f stops adjustable in 1/10ths and fast recycling. User changeable german flash tubes add to the versatility of the new Stellar X range.

Available with immediate effect from Interfit Main Dealers starting at £159.99 Inc vat for a single 150 watt head, also available in 300 watt, 600watt and 1000 watt models.

Kits are also available in each of the power ranges starting with (INT416) 150 watt Twin umbrella kit for just £419.99 inc vat, up to a full 3 head kit (INT448) 600 watt with roller bag for easy transportation and additional accessories for just £899.99 inc vat.

Further information will be available on the Interfit Website shortly.
